Crafted from durable iroko wood to adapt to the size and needs of your outdoor space, used as a footrest, separately as another seat or added onto a modular design to create a chaise longue.

Now designed for outdoor use, our Truro ottoman can be used alone, or alongside the co-ordinating left or right arm, armless or corner components to suit the size of your individual garden space.

Upholstered in a woven fabric specially chosen to withstand the elements, its low shape creates a comfortable space for laid-back moments.
