Scarlett Bowman Domestic Bliss (red, blue, pink)

$325 Regular price

$276 Member price

With two works hanging next to a Tracey Emin at Ludlow House, Scarlett Bowman is one to watch. Bowman's digital print is accentuated with a varnish overlay, and as the only edition to feature a flocking overlay, this piece has a truly unique texture. Kate Bryan, Soho House Head of Collections, says, 'I love this really reduced aesthetic that she uses. She's using a dishcloth, a scouring pad, which is flocked, and the blue and white check, as brilliantly graphic and cool as it is, is actually a piece of jay cloth. She takes everyday domestic things and makes you see their fragmentations, their really interesting colour patterns. She's making you awake to the possibilities of art and design in the most mundane and quiet corners of your life.'
